Go To Church Sunday, Any Church, But Be Sure And Go

REASONS GIVEN BY SOME OF OUR BUSINESS MEN WHY THEY ATTEND CHURCH

I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord.—Psalms 122:1.

Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise; be thankful unto him, and bless his name.—Psalms 100: 4.

Go to church Sunday.

You are cordially invited to attend one of Maryville's churches Sunday, and it is confidently expected that you will accept the invitation. You are especially urged to be at some church on Sabbath morning. There is a seat ready for you and your presence will be helpful and encouraging to others.

Here are some reasons given by Maryville business men as to why they go to church, that may interest you:

M. A. Peery, of the Sisson Loan and Title Company:—

"In answer to your inquiry, "Why do you go to church?" permit me to say, first, because every man owes it to his God, his neighbor, his family and himself to attend church as often he can conveniently do so. The Christian religion is responsible for our good government, our freedom of speech, and all the many other privileges and blessings which we daily enjoy. We should therefore give it our attention and attend church as often as possible.

"Second, I have the church going habit, and find that by doing so I am permitted the privilege of the society of good people, and interesting and instructive sermons and good influences in general.

"Third, it is the thing to do."

Joseph Jackson, Sr., president of the First National bank—"I was asked the other day by a friend of mine, 'Why are you a christian?' My answer is because it is my duty to my God, my family and to my fellow man. I believe it to be the duty of every good citizen to live and practice the Christian life. It is the common sense way to live. I have never known a man who lived and spent his life in witnessing for the Master that ever said he regretted the way he lived. Paul tells us that eye has not seen nor ear heard the things that are prepared for them who love and serve Him."

John D. Richey, of the Nodaway Valley bank—"The direction of the Word is to train up a child in the way he should go. All who have obeyed this injunction, have appreciated its truthfulness. Because of the certain result of training in the earlier years of life the influence of the Sunday school and Church has told in a wonderful way upon the moral and religious life of the nation. Make every Sunday as well as next Sunday a go-to-church-day."

George L. Wilfley, president of the Farmers Trust Company:—"You ask me 'Why I Attend Church.' Doubtless many persons attend church through force of habit, or from a sense of duty. While these motives are not entirely unworthy, I find regular church attendance a means of strength and support, not only in the developing of Christian character, but in the regular duties of every day life. Further, viewing my own imperfections and weaknesses, there is comfort and peace from frequent communion with the great source of all goodness and power, the Living God."

H. C. Bower of the Bower Hardware company:—"Unless we live, as we travel life's journey, with the thought of doing our best to make conditions under which the coming generation must live and labor better; we have journey through life on an unprofitable basis, and have been untrue to ourselves and the sacred trust, 'am I my brother's keeper.' The church stands for brotherhood in its broadest and highest sense, and I want to be allied with it and one with it, that my influence, be it great or small, may be directed along the right lines. Hence, I go to church and Sunday school.'

R. C. Seal, a traveling salesman:—"Why do I Attend Church?" Because of the blessings and inspirations which I receive by attending God's house. I go to church because I have taken an obligation to attend its services as often as possible. If I am a church member, I should go because upon my faithfulness to the church depends my influence for good. We are taught 'to let light shine.' A man cannot be a Christian and remain always away from the house of God, if he has the opportunity. I attend church because it makes one a better man."

Senator Anderson Craig:—"I attend because it has become second nature. I think it is right. I enjoy it. I think it is one of the greatest privileges the Lord has given me. If all men ceased to attend church it would be disastrous to our civilization. As a citizen I have no right to do or refrain from doing that, which if persisted in, would be detrimental to the best interest of society. I am convinced by experience and observation that every man or community profits by obeying the commands of God. I want to get all the profit out of life I can."

Mayor Arthur S. Robey.—"I go to church because the church answers the yearnings of the human soul for knowledge of God. Because the church is the moral and ethical power house from which eminates vitalizing and energizing influences for the upbuilding of the individual, and the community. Because, from a business man's standpoint, the church is indispensible to the public welfare. Because, I owe it to my family as husband and father, to my friends and associates, over whom I may unconsciously or otherwise, exert an influence, and to my country as a citizen. Because, the Bible says, 'forsake not the assembling of yourselves together.'"

C. C. Corwin, of the Corwin-Murrin Clothing Co.:—"Why I go to Church, is that when a small boy my parents took me to church, and you know, 'as the twig is bent so the tree is inclined,' When I became a man I soon realized I could learn something from most any minister whom I went to hear, and to miss hearing some of our best sermons was a loss to me which I could not well afford. I find for the busy business man, there is no better rest for the mind than an active interest in church work on Sunday."

County Superintendent Wm. Oakerson:—I attend church for spiritual and intellectual enlightenment. All growth or development comes to us through our efforts. The muscles grow by using them, the intellect grows by making use of the faculties that we possess, and one way for receiving spiritual development is to regularly attend the church services. Each individual is also responsible to society for aiding in building up those organizations in the community which tend to elevate the community. No organization does as much for the moral and spiritual development of society as the church, therefore we owe it to the church to give it our support."

Prof. B. F. Duncan:—"Why I go to Church" is a difficult question in the brief space allotted because there are so many reasons for doing so one is at a loss to select the most important ones. It is a duty I owe to myself, to my associates, to the institutions of my country and to my God. No one lives to himself alone and the church conserves and utilizes the best energies of the race along all lines of real progress and development through which the world has reached its present high attainment. It is there that not only the Christian, but all being endowed with moral characteristics, secure their greatest spiritual uplift and intellectual stimulation. Again, I would say that, for the reason cited above and for many others equally good, I go to church because I regard it an inestimable privilege, the loss of which would be the most serious deprivation one could comtemplate. It needs but a superficial glance at the history of the world to bring the con-

EVERY SUNDAY THEIR DAY.

Yet Catholic Pastors Extend You Welcome to Worship With Them Sunday.

Editor Democrat-Forum: Our attention has been called to the suggestion made in your issue of January 28th that the Catholic clergy and people of Maryville join with the other churches in observing Sunday, February 8th as "Go-to-Church Day." Whilst fully appreciating your suggestion, we are nevertheless compelled to say that the idea of designating any particular Sunday as "Go-to-Church Day" is, as far as Catholics are concerned, practically meaningless. For them every Sunday is such a day. By the laws of the church Catholics are bound to attend divine service every Sunday, unless excused by some grave reason, such as sickness or physical inability to attend.

Insofar, however, as it does not conflict with the rules of the church, we will comply with your suggestion to the extent that on the Sunday designated the subject of our sermons will be, "Does Christ Say Go to Church?" Anyone, of course, is welcome to our services.

Rector of St. Patrick's.

PUBLIC WORSHIP.

What Rev. Fr. Niemann Writes on That Subject.

Editor Democrat-Forum: Do I owe God anything? I certainly do. I am God's creature, which means I owe Him my existence, consequently everything. Now, it would be unbecoming if I failed in gratitude to Him who is my greatest benefactor. Therefore I owe Him love and gratitude. If I lavish all my affections on creatures and none on the Creator, I am stingy with my love.

God created me in time, and therefore I owe Him at least a little of my time in return for the time and eternity He gives me. If in spite of His command "Remember thou to keep holy the Sabbath day" I spend all my time on self and refuse my God one hour a week or so of public worship I am stingy with my time.

But why public worship? God made me not only a rational being but a social being. I owe Him not only the power of body and mind but also the social instinct which compels me to seek the society of my fellow men. So strong is this social instinct that solitary confinement is considered a punishment almost worse than death. It is said that criminals thus confined usually lose their mind. God, therefore, made me to live in society, not only as an individual, but as a member of society. I must worship Him. Public, as well as private, worship is an exigency of my created nature. Should I worship in church? In the Old Law, God commanded the Jews to worship in the temple. Christ our Lord worshiped in the temple and in the synagogues. There are many who fancy that the Lord preached the greater part of His sermons out of doors. They have heard of the Sermon on the Mount and the Sermon from the Boat, but apparently never of the sermons in the temple and the synagogues. As a rule Christ preached in a church, as an exception he preached elsewhere. When in Jerusalem, St. Luke says:

"He preached daily in the temple" (19, 47). Our Lord Himself says: "I sat daily with you teaching in the temple" (Math. 26:55). This was in Jerusalem, but what about His preaching in other towns? St. Matthew says: "And Jesus went about all the cities and towns teaching in the synagogues" (9:35). This is a sweeping statement. It seems to imply a custom, or that Christ's ordinary place for dispensing the word of God was a church. Well St. Luke says: "We went into the synagogue according to his custom" (4:16), and again (4:44), "He was preaching in the synagogues of Galilee." Christ set the example of private devotion by retiring often to pray alone. He set the example of church going by attending church Himself, and above all by choosing the church as the ordinary place for worship and preaching the word of God.

JOB WAS SELECTED

ONLY CHANGE AS MADE BY COURT IN APPOINTMENTS.

J. H. CLARY AS ENGINEER

Dr. L. E. Dean, W. A. Townsend and M. A. Peery Also Selected—Other Business of the Court.

The county court this afternoon made the following appointments for the coming year from March 1:

W. L. Job as county superintendent of the poor farm to succeed R. G. Brummitt.

W. A. Townsend as janitor of the court house, to succeed himself.

John H. Clary as county highway engineer, to succeed himself.

Dr. L. E. Dean as county physician and health officer, to succeed himself.

M. A. Peery as title examiner, to succeed himself.

The only new appointment was that of W. L. Job. He is the son of William Job, who was superintendent of the county farm for eight years, and was born on the county farm twenty-two years ago. He has always lived in the neighborhood of the farm, and is a young man well qualified for the place.

W. E. Crawford was appointed justice of the peace of Hughes township to succeed the late A. C. Snyder.

The court ordered the county highway engineer, John H. Clary, to view, survey and mark out a new road in Hughes township on the line between Nodaway and Andrew counties, which is to extend a little over a mile. The petition for the establishment of the new road was presented to the court by W. H. Brown and several other land owners in that section. A petition will also be sent to Andrew county court for an order for the establishment of that part of the road that is located in Andrew county.

ARRESTED AT ST. JOSEPH.

Deputy Sheriff Dee Callahan returned Friday night from St. Joseph with Fred L. Smith, who was put in the county jail on a charge of obtaining food, lodging and accommodations at a hotel with intent to defraud at Mrs. E. C. Campbell's hotel at Conception Junction.

BURNED TO DEATH

MRS. BEARD ANTRIM'S CLOTHES CAUGHT ON FIRE.

WAS BUILDING A FIRE

Mrs. Beard Antrim, living east of Parnell, was fatally burned about 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, her death resulting at 11 o'clock Friday night.

Mrs. Antrim was alone at her home all afternoon, her two children, Perry and Lulu, being at school, and nothing was known of her horrible experience until they came from school, when they found her lying in a swoon on the floor, nearly all her clothing burned from her body. Help was summoned, and after a time Mrs. Antrim recovered consciousness and was able to tell how the accident happened.

She was replenishing the fire in the heating stove, when her apron, which she had thrown back over her shoulder out of the way, caught fire in some way. She ran to the kitchen to put out the fire, but the back of her dress had caught from her apron and was fanned into flames as she ran.

She fought the fire with all her strength, but was unable to extinguish it. She suffered fearfully in her efforts. The deep burns in her back were what caused her death. Every part of her body excepting her face and feet were seared and burned. She remained conscious until the last moment of her life, assuring her family all the time that she was going to live.

Eldon Irvin of this city, a brother of Mrs. Antrim, went to Sheridan on the 10:52 Wabash Saturday morning.

Mr. Antrim's farm was a short distance north of Sheridan. They moved from near Parnell about six months ago.

The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Methodist church in Parnell. Burial at Ravenwood.

Mrs. Antrim was about 44 years old. She was born in New Castle, Pa., and came to Nodaway county with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren B. Irvin, and settled at Ravenwood, where she was married to Beard Antrim. She is survived by her husband and six children.

WAS THE COLDEST MORNING.

Mercury Went Down to 11 Below Zero This Morning—Much Suffering Here.

It was 11 below zero this morning at 7 o'clock, according to the government thermometer, being the coldest morning of the winter. The coldest morning up to this morning was on December 26, when it went down to zero. The change was felt keenly by the people here on account of such a sudden change and the high wind making the biting cold more penetrating.

The forecast is for fair weather tonight and Sunday, not much change in temperature.

What to Read.

If you are down with the blues, read the twenty-seventh Psalm.

If there is a chilly sensation about the heart, read the third chapter of Revelation.

If you don't know where to look for the month's rent, read the thirty-seventh Psalm.

If the stovepipe has fallen down and the cook gone off in a pet, put up the pipe, wash your hands and read the third chapter of James.

If you find yourself losing confidence in men, read the thirteenth chapter of I. Corinthians.

If people pelt you with hard words, read the fifteenth chapter of John.

If you are getting discouraged about your work read Psalm 126 and Galatians 6.7-9.

If you are all out of sorts, read the twelfth chapter of Hebrews.—The Bible Reader.

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight and Sunday; not much change in temperature; moderate northwest winds.

REASONS FOR ATTENDING CHURCH

It is sweet on a summer's morning, when the air is aquiver with the love songs of the birds and fragrant with the odor of roses blown, to hear the music of the church going bells, an invitation to the world-wearied to enter God's temple and find peace, because the instinct of worship is in the heart of man and the church is the temple of the living God.

I go to church because I find peace there, that peace which De Quincy described as a resting from human labors, a Sabbath of repose, a respite granted from the secret burdens of the heat, as if the tumult and fever and strife were suspended; as if there brooded over me a dove-like and halcyon calm.

I go to church because I love the music that I hear there, the mighty roll of the great organ, mingled with the marvelous symphonies of that divine stringed instrument, the human voice, untwisting all the chains that tie the hidden soul of harmony.

I go to church because I delight to hear the teachings of the preacher, whose soul is dedicated to God, whose field is as wide as God's universe, whose theme is the destiny of man, and whose words are the oracles of Fate. Marvelous is the spell of the preacher to whom God has given genius and consecration and the power of illustration drawn from the old, sacred, immortal Book, and from the miracles of nature, no less revealed in the crimson-tipped flower turned up by the plowshare of Robert Burns upon the soil of Ayr than in the long reaches of the star-girt skies.

I go to church because "the way is dark and I am far from home," and because the church is the polar star to light my pathway in the rayless night.

I go to church because the church ministers not only to the spiritual but also to the material needs of life, and because it is there that the charities that sooth and heal and bless are scattered at the feet of man like flowers.

I go to church because in that atmosphere vice and crime wither and die.

I go to church because I hear the teachings of the philosophy of Jesus, the incomparable man; and if you say His teaching is philosophy and not religion, and that He was a man and not a god, then the philosophy of that man has redeemed the world from savagery and blessed mankind with Christian civilization, and, to my mind, it is a thing worth while to hear.

I go to church because I find there consolation and hope; because I see there the dawn and not the sunset; and it is better for man, if the hope is baseless and the vision but an elusive phantom, to cherish a dream so glorious and beautiful than to be weighted down and crushed with the quarried mountains of a world without hope and without God.—By Congressman Claude Weaver of Oklahoma.

WHY THEY ATTEND CHURCH

viction that for the preservation of this right the race has put forth its greatest energies. But to sum up all other reasons in one brief statement, I go to church to worship God; for, in a right apprehension of what that means, I find the basic fact of human life. The fundamental idea in the teaching of the church is that the life of man must be brought into willing conformity to the principles of truth and right through a conscious presence of the Holy Spirit influencing and directing all its energies and activities. This is fundamental and the fact wherein the church differs radically from all human institutions however beneficent and worthy these may have been. Therefore, I conclude that the church is the only institution organized on the earth that is able to touch life at its source and to purify the fountain of all activity; and it is a matter of wonderment that the sentiment of the Psalmist, 'I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord,' has been the sentiment of all Christian hearts since his time."

Agent W. E. Goforth of the Burlington station—I go to church because it is my privilege, also my moral, social and religious duty to give my support to the institution that makes Maryville a better place to live in; the institution that makes a higher standard of good citizenship. I go to church because I like the association of Christian people. I like to lend my aid and encouragement to the minister fully as well as I enjoy the good I receive from attending church. Six days are given to man to fight the professional battles of life, and the seventh we are commanded to give to our Maker, and it should be observed in worship.

Recorder J. Arthur Wray—Why attend church? Because we are all subject to one or the other of two masters, but we have to choose which to serve—one a deceiving enemy, the other our personal friend, who so loves us that He died for us, but is now our great living model. He wants us to attend church and learn about His earthly life so that we may live a clean, wholesome life, pleasing to Him, agreeable to our neighbors and safe and gladsome to ourselves here and save for the life hereafter. In short, we should attend church because we need its help and because it needs us and our help and influence.

Again, why not attend church? "Choose ye this day whom ye will serve?"

Attorney W. H. Crawford—I attend church largely from the force of habit formed early in life, from the example set by my father and mother, who were both devout people, and always attended church unless prevented by some very good reason.

I go to church, also, because I love the music of the church. Because at church I hear the teachings of Him who spoke as no man has ever spoken. Because at church I hear those things which, if heeded, will give me the ability to make the most of this life, and because at church is held out the only hope I have of a life hereafter.

Judge Joseph H. Sayler—I go to church because as far back as I can remember my parents took me to church with them and set me the good example, and my father, who is still living, at the age of 90, continues to attend church. It is a great pleasure, the best I have, to meet and worship the Master with other good people. I think we were put here for a purpose and we ought to try, at least, to accomplish some good by our example as well as by precept. I think all professing Christians ought to be regular attendants at church.

S. G. Gillam, president of the Gillam-Jackson Loan and Trust Co.—Why do I go to church? Because I feel it is a duty I owe to my God, a feeling inspired in early childhood by the teachings and example of my devout Christian parents. Because I regard the church as of great value to the community and feel that I should contribute to its existence, not alone of my means, but as well of a consistent moral support by attending its services. Because I enjoy the services of the church and the association of its people.

Says America Has All Land It Wants.

Newcastle, England, Feb. 7.—Walter H. Page, the American ambassador, in his address before the Newcastle Chamber of Commerce, touched upon the Monroe doctrine and the situation in Mexico. Mr. Page said the United States desired no more territory, as it now had sufficient for a self-governing unit. The Monroe doctrine, the ambassador declared, stood for self government. The United States desires no European government in America, because it wished to dedicate the American continent to self government, as well as the peoples who live there.

WILLIAM JEWELL WON.

Defeated the Normal Basket Ball Team Friday Night by a Score of 37 to 21.

In one of the fastest games seen on the local court the Normalites were defeated by William Jewell 37-21. The game was exceedingly fast and rough from start to finish. Jewell excelled the Normals slightly in team work, but their excessive bulk was responsible for the high score and roughness. The locals showed as clever floor work as their opponents, but were not heavy enough to play the type of game exhibited by the Jewells.

The first half ended 16 to 8 in favor of the Jewells, but the locals came back with a rush in the second half, coming within two points of their opponent's score, but could not keep up the clip they set.

Martin and Jeffries were the stellar performers for Jewell, though the entire team showed class as basket ball tossers. Vandersloot was off on free throws, but did as clever floor work as usual, scoring five goals from difficult positions. Though Quinn is just recovering from a badly twisted knee he certainly was in the game, and helped the team work wonderfully, displaying good headwork and grit throughout the game. Watson showed more class than he has yet shown, and certainly will make a great player in another year. Scott and McReynolds deserve a great deal of credit for the plucky way they stuck to their big opponents.

Maryville was outclassed by Jewell, due to their inexperience, but they deserve a great deal of credit for the fighting spirit displayed in their games played this season. Hanson increased his popularity with Maryville fans by his very efficient work as official last night.

The team will spend three days in hard practice preparatory to their trip to Liberty and Cameron next Thursday and Friday.

The Normal certainly has a loyal backing exhibited by the enthusiastic audience of over 250 people, in spite of the extreme cold and high wind of last night. They all felt that the excellent game played was worth the effort extended to witness the game.

Summary:

William Jewell—Martin, Jeffries, Hood, Godfriaux, Bell, Carbaugh.

Normal — Vandersloot, Watson, Quinn, Scott, McReynolds.

Field goals—Martin 4, Jeffries 3, Hood 6, Godfriaux, Bell, Carbaugh, Vandersloot 5, Watson, Quinn.

Final score—37-21.

Time of halves—20 minutes.

Referee — Hanson, Benton high school, St. Joseph.

Attendance—250.

DEBATE ON RACE QUESTION

Washington, Feb. 7.—After another debate on the race question, the senate will vote today on the final passage of the Lever agricultural extension bill.

Senator Gallinger started the argument with a statement in favor of the Jones amendment to provide that negro agricultural colleges in the south shall share in the administration of the proposed fund for farm demonstration. This brought forth extended remarks upon the negro by Senator Vardaman, who declared it would be a godsend if the negro was not permitted to vote in any state.

Describing present conditions in the "black belt," the Mississippi senator said the women of the southern states were living today in a state of siege with more dread than in the days when the wild man and wild beast roamed the frontier.

Mrs. Hannah Garten went to Kansas City Saturday morning to visit her daughter, Mrs. C. S. Heimbaugh.

Mrs. Kate Alspaugh and Miss Orva Alspaugh went to Kansas City Saturday morning on a shopping trip.

THE WAGE EARNERS BANQUET.

Thirty-five members and several guests of the Wage Earners class of the Buchanan Street Methodist church ate at the banquet tables prepared by women organizations of the church in honor of the first birthday of that class Friday night at the church parlors.

"This is no formal affair," said Rev. J. D. Randolph in the course of his remarks, "What the Class Means to the Church." "This class was organized one year ago tonight. I have spent a great deal of time, patience and energy planning a scheme of organization for this class and have come to consider it my hobby. One of its most important aims is to develop the fellowship side of the men."

J. H. Thorp spoke on the toast "Aim of the Wage Earners," and brought out the point that it was to help those that were down and to help others to a higher plane of morals.

Charles Wilson gave a short talk of the "Organization of the Class," stating that it had grown from four in number to sixty-five in the course of one year.

C. W. Siler, "Why I Joined the Wage Earners," stated that he saw the good aims and intentions of the class, and anything that could be of service in aiding him to be a better man he was willing to undertake.

Dr. R. E. Hamilton, toastmaster, gave a short talk on "The Value of the Ritual."

Rev. M. DeWitt of Barnard, who had been visiting Rev. Randolph for the day, spoke a few words of praise, and stated that it was his intention to organize a similar class.

I. B. Williams, a visitor, responded.

THE SPIRITS AND PROPERTY.

There is to Be Trouble Over the Will of Alonzo Thompson.

A number of Maryville people will be interested in a story that comes from Denver, relative to the disposition of the will of the late Alonzo B. Thompson, formerly of Maryville, where he made his money. The story as told by a press dispatch is as follows:

"Mrs. Alonzo Thompson, widow of the late Denver millionaire spiritualist, announced that she was preparing to start several suits against Helen S. Baker of Fullerton, Neb., who, according to Mrs. Thompson, is also known as Nellie S. Noyes. In one she will demand damages of the spiritualistic husband's affections, and in another she will attempt to recover some $150,000 worth of property which Thompson presented to Miss Baker shortly before his death.

"Equally startling are the announcements which come from the Baker camp in the form of a reply to Mrs. Thompson's charges. Miss Baker, who is now in Fullerton, declares she will start suit against the Thompson estate for one-third of the property. This, she alleges, was bequeathed to her by the millionaire spirit believer in a codicil to his will. Undue influence was brought to bear, she announces, to persude him to have this codicil destroyed.

"Miss Baker declared she will also produce testimony in court to show that Mrs. Thompson, herself, got into the good graces of the millionaire, by representing herself to be a spiritualistic medium. The suits and counter suits are expected to be filed at any time.

"By leading him to believe that he was obeying the commands of the inhabitants of the spritual world, Miss Baker influenced the aged millionaire to give her deeds to these properties, according to the allegations of Mrs. Thompson. Not for herself, but for her son, Alonzo, Jr., is she conducting the fight, she asserts. If the $150,000 worth of property is won it will revert to the late Mr. Thompson's son, or at least to the Thompson estate, say Mrs. Thompson's lawyers.

Shelman-Garrard.

Wednesday, February 4, 1914, at 12 a. m., Mr. Hardie N. Shelman and Miss Blanche Garrard were united in the bonds of holy matrimony at the residence of the bride's parents, Challie E. Graham, pastor of the Isadora, Mo., Christian church, officiating.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Shelman, who live southwest of Gaynor City, Mo. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Garrard, who also live southwest of Gaynor City. These are excellent young people and come of excellent families. Following the ceremony a bountiful dinner was partaken of. Their many friends unite in wishing for them a long, useful and happy life.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Two basket ball games have been matched with the first basket ball team of the high school. The first game will be played here Friday, February 13 with the Central high school of St. Joseph. The other will be played with the Bedford high school, Friday, February 20. One game has been played with Bedford this season, but our boys have not yet played the St. Joseph team this season, and we are looking forward to two good games.

Two games of the basket ball tournament were played after school Friday. The Holt team—Holt, Saunders, Fleming, B. Harris and Alspaugh—played the Harris team—I. Harris, Gillam, Olney, Farmer and G. Miller. In the first of the game the Holt team gained the lead and kept ahead throughout the entire game, the final score being 15 to 25. The other game was between the Sawyers and Wilson teams. The players of the two teams were: Wilson, captain; F. Gray, Farmer, Hagin and Johnson, vs. H. Sawyers, captain; Gillam, Lewis, Benight and Yehle. At the close of the first half both teams had eight points, but the final score was 16 to 19 in favor of Sawyers.

What They Say About Keene.

Virgil Keene of Maryville, the jolly stationary salesman of a large supply house in St. Louis, was in Grant City Thursday. We failed to recognize Mr. Keene at first, on account of his new alfalfa Van Dyke. This additional fixture makes Virgil one of the finest looking men we ever saw. Somehow it tones down his otherwise fine features till they now blend like the aroma of a good Brazilian coffee stewing on an Ozark camp fire.—Grant City News in Worth Tribune.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING.

Regular Session Held, But Only Routine Business Taken Up—Discussed Members' Salary.

At the city council meeting held Friday night, a discussion took place that the salary of the members of the council should be so much a meeting, and that they would only receive their pay when they are present at the meeting. The city attorney will probably draw up an ordinance to that effect, to be taken up at the next meeting. At the present time the salary of the council members is $50, but they receive that salary whether they attend or not. The effect of the proposed ordinance is to secure the attendance of the members at the meetings.

An order was made to refund one-half of the tax to Clark Weaver on his property, the assessment having been erroneous.

For Bridal Couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Montgomery will be the honor guests at a 6 o'clock dinner Saturday evening at the home of Judge and Mrs. J. H. Sayler, when Miss Phyllis Sayler will be hostess. The other guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Burt K. Lewis and Miss Nelle Hudson.

Postponed the Meeting.

On account of the severe cold weather Friday, the Woman's Missionary society of the First Baptist church postponed its meeting for that day, and it will be held in connection with the February missionary tea at the parsonage, with Mrs. Louis M. Hale, the pastor's wife, as hostess.

Sunday Dinner Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Brody, of Wilcox, entertained at dinner Sunday Mrs. F. C. Haller, of that place, and Mrs. Gomer John, of New Market, Iowa. Dr. John and his wife moved to New Market from Wilcox nearly a year ago. Mrs. John left Monday evening on an extended visit to friends at Springfield, Mo., and to her brothers, F. C. and G. M. Williams, of Memphis, Tenn.

Missionary Meeting.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist church held its regular meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. C Hanna. Miss N. Elizabeth Evans conducted the lesson on the organization of the Woman's Missionary society, its aims and purposes. Mrs. Hanna conducted the mystery box. A nice social time and luncheon followed. The hostesses were Mrs. H. E. Wright, Mrs. S. H. Kemp and Mrs. J. A. Lesh.

Thursday Evening Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Ballenger entertained at supper Thursday evening Rev. R. C. Miller, of Moberly, their old friend and former pastor at White Cloud Baptist church; their daughter, Mrs. P. B. Fisher and baby son of Rea, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. J. Claude Ballenger, of Wasco, Ida., who are visiting them. Rev. Miller returned to Moberly Thursday night. He came to preach the funeral sermon of the late John S. Miller.

Entertained the Faculty.

The faculty of the Hopkins schools were the honor guests of a Hum Drum domino party and luncheon given Wednesday evening by Superintendent W. R. Lowrey and Mrs. Lowrey at their home. The guests voted the host and hostess and their son, Raimer, ideal entertainers. The faculty consists of Superintendent Lowrey, Misses Rose Collins, Charlotte Poage, Edna Bonewitz, Ethel Aiken, Chloe Jeffers, Mary Goforth and Lulu Hughes. The other guests were Miss Bessie Burch, Messrs. Fay Whitney, Cecil Appleton and Homer Brown.

Reception for Mrs. Gaynor.

The women of the Twentieth Century club will give a reception Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock at the Conservatory hall in honor of Mrs. Jessie Gaynor and her daughters, Misses Rose and Dorothy Gaynor, who will appear in concert Wednesday evening at the First M. E. church. The committee in charge of the reception are Miss Helen Leffler, Miss Mae Orear and Mrs. T. L. Wadley. The members of the various clubs and societies in the city and all lovers of music are cordially invited to meet Mrs. Gaynor and her daughters at this time.

Young Reliables Entertained.

The Young Reliables of the Methodist Church Sunday school at Ravenwood entertained the girls of the Willing Workers' class of the same school with a party in the church parlors Thursday evening. Refreshments were served after the games. Nary a Slot Machine.

At the recent session of the grand jury a report was requested on the slot machines running in the county and it looked for a few minutes like somebody was going to be caused a little trouble. The machines were in open violation of the law and the penalty was pretty stiff. Upon the suggestion of some of the members of the jury, however, it was decided not to prosecute the owners of the machines if they were taken out immediately. As a result there is not a machine left in the county and the fellows who have been having a little amusement seeing the colors turn will now be compelled to find some other use for their nickels. It is said that there is a little receptacle called a savings bank which will accommodate a nickel—or several of them—very nicely, and while this might be a little tame for awhile, it is suggested as a good substitute.

The sale of cigarettes has also fallen off surprisingly in the county since the meeting of the grand jury. The jury was given specific instructions in regard to the sale of the "coffin nails" to minors and all tobacco sellers were warned by the jury to be very careful about violating the law.—Burlington Junction Post.

Alleged Swindler Works Corporations

New York, Feb. 7.—Lorenzo B. Adams, arraigned before the United States commissioner as a mail swindler, had, according to the charges of the postoffice inspectors, developed his art to such a degree that his victims were not individuals, but corporations. He was accused of swindling the promoters of newly formed stock companies out of $100,000 by selling them a worthless service whereby he promised to exploit and sell their securities.

Woman Burned to Death.

Ida Grove, Ia., Feb. 7.—Mrs. Paul Kettleson of Cook township, who lived some fifteen miles northwest of Ida Grove, was burned to death. She took a lantern and went into an adjoining room and while there must have been stricken with palsy, for she fell over on the lantern and was so terribly burned she died in a short time. Her husband, who is deaf, did not know of her fate until he missed her and went to look for her.

KING WELCOMES PEASANTS

Demonstration in Favor of Swedish Armaments.

Stockholm, Sweden, Feb. 7.—Striking success, both spectacular and material, attended the monster demonstration in favor of the increase of Swedish armaments. The 30,000 participants were told by King Gustave that the problem of Swedish defense must be settled without loss of time.

The army of patriotic petitioners, which had waited on the outskirts of the Swedish capital since Thursday, was greeted with enthusiasm by the entire population of Stockholm as it marched the streets to the palace, where King Gustave was waiting to receive it. The procession was a very picturesque one, composed of small owners and farmers from every part of the kingdom.

The peasants were warmly welcomed by the king, who stood on the portico of the palace. Their petition stated that they were ready to make all the necessary sacrifices to defend their country and to assure its independence, and demanded that the subject be taken in hand forthwith. The king replied that he was in hearty accord with the desire of the pilgrims and shared their opinion that the problem was one which must be solved without loss of time.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

Further Evidences of Reviving Business Activity.

New York, Feb. 7.—Dun's Review of Trade says:

There are further evidences of reviving business activity, with the expansion in industrial operations constituting one of the best features of the situation. Somewhat less complaint is now heard regarding labor conditions, as the number of unemployed, while apparently still large, has been considerably reduced of late. This obviously enhances the purchasing power of the people and confidence in the future is gradually strengthening.

Developments in iron and steel last month were of such an encouraging nature that prices in certain finished lines have been advanced $1 a ton—a significant fact in view of the freedom with which concessions were formerly offered.

Failures for the week were 372.

MISSOURI RATE CASES APPEALED

Attorney for Thirteen Roads Goes to Get McPherson to Sign.

JUDGE HOLDS HE HAS NO POWER

Railways Will Seek to Have United States Supreme Court Compel Federal Jurist to Take Jurisdiction of All Claims.

Kansas City, Feb. 7.—The Missouri railroad rate cases, which have been in litigation for many years, were started on another journey to the supreme court of the United States. Eugene E. Ball, a partner of Frank Hagerman, attorney for the thirteen roads involved, departed for Red Oak, Ia., the home of Judge Smith McPherson of the federal court, to obtain the judge's signature to an appeal to the supreme court from Judge McPherson's decision, in which the judge held he had no power to retain jurisdiction of suits to recover alleged overcharges from the railroads.

The railroads seek an order from the higher court compelling Judge McPherson to take jurisdiction of the claims of shippers and passengers who paid the higher rates during the life of the injunction that Judge McPherson granted against the enforcement of the rate laws. The claims amount to approximately $24,000,000.

In their "assignment of errors," on which the appeal is based, the railroads allege the court erred in "decreeing that it refused jurisdiction to settle and determine all liability if any for alleged overcharges between shippers and passengers and complainant." It also is charged the court was in error "in holding it was without any discretion to reserve such jurisdiction and had no power, under the mandate, and the opinion of the supreme court so to do."

The appointment of a master to take jurisdiction over such claims as might be filed in the federal court is objected to, the railroads alleging they had never consented to such an arrangement.

Mr. Ball said he expected Judge McPherson to sign the order for appeal. John T. Barker, attorney general of Missouri, then will have thirty days to file an answer to the supreme court. The cases probably will not be reached for decision by the higher court, it is said, before its summer adjournment.

Before He Can Marry.

Here are ten qualifications a man must have before he can marry a member of the Argyle Bachelor Girls' club. He—

Must be as kind to his wife as her father and brothers were.

Must be prominently identified with the affairs of the community in which he lives, and with some church.

Must be a man with no bad habits. He cannot drink and cannot smoke to excess.

Must be willing to pay cheerfully for a new Easter hat with an air of "Glad to do it for you, dear."

Must kiss his wife good-bye every morning, and not leave the impression, "Well, that job's over with."

Must be a man who will not stay out late at night and come home with the "sick friend" story, or "had to work at my office, dear," story.

Must pay the light bills without grumbling.

Must share the responsibility of the home, even to walking the floor at night with a possible offspring.

Must be reasonable in all things and accept his wife's explanations without question.

Kansas City Motor Show.

Plans are now complete for the annual motor show given under the management of the Kansas City Motor Car Dealers' association, February 16 to 22. The decorative scheme is entirely different from any thus far seen in Convention hall. The general effect will be white and green, the white being the natural woodwork and the green being natural southern smilax and wisteria blossoms shipped direct from the southern forests. Immense white pillars will support the temporary balcony and they will be twelve feet apart. Between these pillars will be a beautiful white lattice wall. Pillars and wall will be covered with green vines. The arcade and lobby will be decorated in white bunting and American flags. Appropriate medallions, will be hung in each space, bearing the name of the exhibition, and over all there will be a sky blue ceiling with a general lighting scheme, the like of which has never been seen in the west.

There will be clusters and streamers filling every nook and crannie with pure white light suspended from the roof. All the streamers will be covered with smilax, and in all there will be more than 10,000 tungsten lamps in use.

A thirty-piece orchestra and an especially selected cabaret troupe will furnish continuous entertainment afternoons and evenings, so there will not be a dull moment for the visitors.

"Every indication points to a wonderful attendance," said Mr. Peake, "which only emphasizes the scope and importance of the motor car industry to this great southwest."

Are you keeping your bowels, liver, and stomach clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills, castor oil or purgative waters?

Stop having a bowel wash day. Let Cascarets thoroughly cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisonous constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken or cause any inconvenience, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have headache, biliousness, coated tongue, indigestion, sour stomach or constipated bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.—Advertisement.

GUILFORD NEWS ITEMS.

Marion W. Graham has sold his place of 105 acres, three miles north of Guilford, to Thomas Whorton and A. P. Patton for $116 per acre. Possession will be given March 1.

The Guilford basket ball teams have leased the Odd Fellows' hall and will soon be entertaining our town people and making enthusiastic supporters out of us in this popular game.

Carl Wray has at last succeeded in selling his father-in-law's monkeys, that were taking too much of that busy man's time. Jacko has been purchased by E. T. Reisner, the skating rink man. Mr. Reisner used him for an attraction at the rink Friday night, turning him loose on the floor after the skating began, the one catching him to be the owner. A pig was turned loose two weeks ago and Bert Hubbell caught it and held on, and the pig was his'n.

A Winter Cough.

A stubborn, annoying, depressing cough hangs on, racks the body, weakens the lungs, and often leads to serious results. The first dose of Dr. King's New Discovery gives relief. Henry D. Sanders of Cavendish, Vt., was threatened with consumption, after having pneumonia. He writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery ought to be in every family; it is certainly the best of all medicines for coughs, colds or lung trouble." Good for children's coughs. Money back if not satisfied. Price 50c and $1.00. At all druggists. H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis.—Advertisement.

SAYS FREE TOLLS AID MONOPOLY

President Pays High Tribute to Secretary Bryan.

Baltimore, Feb. 7.—President Wilson, in a letter to William L. Marbury of this city, which was published in the Baltimore Sun today, says that the exemption of American coastwise ships from Panama canal tolls "constitutes a very mistaken policy from every point of view and benefits for the present, at any rate, only a monopoly." The president also pays a high tribute to Secretary of State Bryan, lauding his "character, sincerity, justice and integrity," declaring that he gives the department dignity.

Washington, Feb. 7.—It is apparent that President Wilson's expressed desire for repeal of the provision of the Panama canal act which exempts American coastwise ships from tolls will precipitate spirited debate in both houses of congress when the bill to carry out the suggestion is submitted.

Senators and representatives discussed the situation informally, but no move was made on the subject. Action probably will come first from the house interstate and foreign commerce committee, in the form of a bill to repeal the toll exemption provision. Representative Adamson, chairman of the committee, probably will introduce the bill next week. He is awaiting word from the president before acting.

That opposition to the repeal will develop in the house interstate commerce committee was indicated by Representative Knowland (Cal.), a member of the committee, who declared:

"We are paying a dear price for the friendship of Great Britain, even though it may help us out in Mexico."

SHOULD BE IN PENITENTIARY

Borah Says Prison Is Place for Men Involved in Haven Deal.

NORRIS READS PRESS CHARGES

Nebraskan Urges Passage of Resolution for New Probe—Fear of Giving Witnesses Immunity Halted Interstate Commerce Commission Inquiry.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Senator Norris, in urging the passage of his resolution for a new inquiry, said fear of granting immunity to witnesses caused the interstate commerce commission to make an incomplete investigation of the affairs of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad.

Senator Norris read newspaper charges emphasizing particularly that attorneys for Morgan & Co. received $15,000 for drawing the incorporation papers of a $10,000 subsidiary corporation of the New Haven.

"If half the information made public about the New Haven transactions is true, eight or ten persons ought to be in the penitentiary," interjected Senator Borah. "Are you not afraid further investigation may give immunity to guilty persons?"

Senator Norris replied that testimony probably could be obtained from the bookkeepers and he had no objection to giving them immunity.

Senator Cummins declared that in his opinion, congress had enough information and it would do best to busy itself with the enactment of proper laws to prohibit future transactions than to await further investigation by the interstate commerce commission. He insisted that the commission had no authority to investigate the charges that the directors defrauded the stockholders.

"I predict the state of affairs here finds a parallel in the capitalization of a dozen railroads of the country," said Senator Cummins. "We have known it was going on for years and refused to give the interstate commerce commission power to regulate such matters."

Mr. Borah expressed the opinion that the attorney general would act. "I think the spectacle of five or six men behind the bars would have a more powerful moral influence on the country than any legislation we can enact," he declared.

Senator Cummins replied there was no federal law under which the attorney general could "put any of these men behind bars."

HITS AT RUSH AT HEARING

Insurance Agent Says Prosecutor Asked "Leading Questions."

Kansas City, Feb. 7.—"Conditions in the grand jury room were outrageous," George Kumpf, an insurance agent, testified in the federal court during a hearing to quash indictments against eight officers and agents of the Florida Fruit Lands company, charged with misuse of the mails.

Attorneys for the indicted men allege government officials who conducted the grand jury deliberations exercised "judicial tyranny." Kumpf was a member of the grand jury until excused by the court because of business reasons. He was excused before the indictments were returned.

Kumpf charged that Sylvester Rush of Omaha, who conducted the grand jury investigation for the government, asked "leading questions of witnesses and sought in other ways to influence the jurors against the land company officials."

Inquiry Into Conditions Among Women Toilers Ends.

Joplin, Mo., Feb. 7.—The Missouri senate's commission appointed to investigate wages and working conditions of women ended its task of hearing testimony in Joplin.

Lieutenant Governor Painter, chairman of the commission, announced the body would recommend the appointment of a permanent commission in Missouri to investigate wage conditions, to settle labor disputes and with power to fix the wage scale in cases where employee and employer cannot agree.

Mr. Painter did not say whether a minimum wage law would be recommended. Later in the year members of the commission will go to other states to study working conditions of women.

POULTRY DEALERS TO JAIL

Thirteen Members of Chicken Trust Must Serve Sentence.

New York, Feb. 7.—Thirteen members of the so called "chicken trust," otherwise the New York Live Poultry Dealers' association, convicted of restraining trade in New York city, must go to jail.

Their appeal was denied in a decision handed down by the appellate division and their sentences of three months in prison and fines of $500 each were sustained.

The higher court found that defendants were in a pool which controlled 90 per cent of the poultry shipped to New York and destroyed competition. The case against them was prosecuted under the state anti monopoly law.

Go To Church Sunday, Any Church, But Be Sure And Go

REASONS GIVEN BY SOME OF OUR BUSINESS MEN WHY THEY ATTEND CHURCH

I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord.—Psalms 122:1.

Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise; be thankful unto him, and bless his name.—Psalms 100: 4.

Go to church Sunday.

You are cordially invited to attend one of Maryville's churches Sunday, and it is confidently expected that you will accept the invitation. You are especially urged to be at some church on Sabbath morning. There is a seat ready for you and your presence will be helpful and encouraging to others.

Here are some reasons given by Maryville business men as to why they go to church, that may interest you:

M. A. Peery, of the Sisson Loan and Title Company:—

"In answer to your inquiry, "Why do you go to church?" permit me to say, first, because every man owes it to his God, his neighbor, his family and himself to attend church as often he can conveniently do so. The Christian religion is responsible for our good government, our freedom of speech, and all the many other privileges and blessings which we daily enjoy. We should therefore give it our attention and attend church as often as possible.

"Second, I have the church going habit, and find that by doing so I am permitted the privilege of the society of good people, and interesting and instructive sermons and good influences in general.

"Third, it is the thing to do."

Joseph Jackson, Sr., president of the First National bank—"I was asked the other day by a friend of mine, 'Why are you a christian?' My answer is because it is my duty to my God, my family and to my fellow man. I believe it to be the duty of every good citizen to live and practice the Christian life. It is the common sense way to live. I have never known a man who lived and spent his life in witnessing for the Master that ever said he regretted the way he lived. Paul tells us that eye has not seen nor ear heard the things that are prepared for them who love and serve Him."

John D. Richey, of the Nodaway Valley bank—"The direction of the Word is to train up a child in the way he should go. All who have obeyed this injunction, have appreciated its truthfulness. Because of the certain result of training in the earlier years of life the influence of the Sunday school and Church has told in a wonderful way upon the moral and religious life of the nation. Make every Sunday as well as next Sunday a go-to-church-day."

George L. Wilfley, president of the Farmers Trust Company:—"You ask me 'Why I Attend Church.' Doubtless many persons attend church through force of habit, or from a sense of duty. While these motives are not entirely unworthy, I find regular church attendance a means of strength and support, not only in the developing of Christian character, but in the regular duties of every day life. Further, viewing my own imperfections and weaknesses, there is comfort and peace from frequent communion with the great source of all goodness and power, the Living God."

H. C. Bower of the Bower Hardware company:—"Unless we live, as we travel life's journey, with the thought of doing our best to make conditions under which the coming generation must live and labor better; we have journey through life on an unprofitable basis, and have been untrue to ourselves and the sacred trust, 'am I my brother's keeper.' The church stands for brotherhood in its broadest and highest sense, and I want to be allied with it and one with it, that my influence, be it great or small, may be directed along the right lines. Hence, I go to church and Sunday school.'

R. C. Seal, a traveling salesman:—"Why do I Attend Church?" Because of the blessings and inspirations which I receive by attending God's house. I go to church because I have taken an obligation to attend its services as often as possible. If I am a church member, I should go because upon my faithfulness to the church depends my influence for good. We are taught 'to let light shine.' A man cannot be a Christian and remain always away from the house of God, if he has the opportunity. I attend church because it makes one a better man."

Senator Anderson Craig:—"I attend because it has become second nature. I think it is right. I enjoy it. I think it is one of the greatest privileges the Lord has given me. If all men ceased to attend church it would be disastrous to our civilization. As a citizen I have no right to do or refrain from doing that, which if persisted in, would be detrimental to the best interest of society. I am convinced by experience and observation that every man or community profits by obeying the commands of God. I want to get all the profit out of life I can."

Mayor Arthur S. Robey.—"I go to church because the church answers the yearnings of the human soul for knowledge of God. Because the church is the moral and ethical power house from which eminates vitalizing and energizing influences for the upbuilding of the individual, and the community. Because, from a business man's standpoint, the church is indispensible to the public welfare. Because, I owe it to my family as husband and father, to my friends and associates, over whom I may unconsciously or otherwise, exert an influence, and to my country as a citizen. Because, the Bible says, 'forsake not the assembling of yourselves together.'"

C. C. Corwin, of the Corwin-Murrin Clothing Co.:—"Why I go to Church, is that when a small boy my parents took me to church, and you know, 'as the twig is bent so the tree is inclined,' When I became a man I soon realized I could learn something from most any minister whom I went to hear, and to miss hearing some of our best sermons was a loss to me which I could not well afford. I find for the busy business man, there is no better rest for the mind than an active interest in church work on Sunday."

County Superintendent Wm. Oakerson:—I attend church for spiritual and intellectual enlightenment. All growth or development comes to us through our efforts. The muscles grow by using them, the intellect grows by making use of the faculties that we possess, and one way for receiving spiritual development is to regularly attend the church services. Each individual is also responsible to society for aiding in building up those organizations in the community which tend to elevate the community. No organization does as much for the moral and spiritual development of society as the church, therefore we owe it to the church to give it our support."

Prof. B. F. Duncan:—"Why I go to Church" is a difficult question in the brief space allotted because there are so many reasons for doing so one is at a loss to select the most important ones. It is a duty I owe to myself, to my associates, to the institutions of my country and to my God. No one lives to himself alone and the church conserves and utilizes the best energies of the race along all lines of real progress and development through which the world has reached its present high attainment. It is there that not only the Christian, but all being endowed with moral characteristics, secure their greatest spiritual uplift and intellectual stimulation. Again, I would say that, for the reason cited above and for many others equally good, I go to church because I regard it an inestimable privilege, the loss of which would be the most serious deprivation one could comtemplate. It needs but a superficial glance at the history of the world to bring the con-

EVERY SUNDAY THEIR DAY.

Yet Catholic Pastors Extend You Welcome to Worship With Them Sunday.

Editor Democrat-Forum: Our attention has been called to the suggestion made in your issue of January 28th that the Catholic clergy and people of Maryville join with the other churches in observing Sunday, February 8th as "Go-to-Church Day." Whilst fully appreciating your suggestion, we are nevertheless compelled to say that the idea of designating any particular Sunday as "Go-to-Church Day" is, as far as Catholics are concerned, practically meaningless. For them every Sunday is such a day. By the laws of the church Catholics are bound to attend divine service every Sunday, unless excused by some grave reason, such as sickness or physical inability to attend.

Insofar, however, as it does not conflict with the rules of the church, we will comply with your suggestion to the extent that on the Sunday designated the subject of our sermons will be, "Does Christ Say Go to Church?" Anyone, of course, is welcome to our services.

PUBLIC WORSHIP.

What Rev. Fr. Niemann Writes on That Subject.

Editor Democrat-Forum: Do I owe God anything? I certainly do. I am God's creature, which means I owe Him my existence, consequently everything. Now, it would be unbecoming if I failed in gratitude to Him who is my greatest benefactor. Therefore I owe Him love and gratitude. If I lavish all my affections on creatures and none on the Creator, I am stingy with my love.

God created me in time, and therefore I owe Him at least a little of my time in return for the time and eternity He gives me. If in spite of His command "Remember thou to keep holy the Sabbath day" I spend all my time on self and refuse my God one hour a week or so of public worship I am stingy with my time.

But why public worship? God made me not only a rational being but a social being. I owe Him not only the power of body and mind but also the social instinct which compels me to seek the society of my fellow men. So strong is this social instinct that solitary confinement is considered a punishment almost worse than death. It is said that criminals thus confined usually lose their mind. God, therefore, made me to live in society, not only as an individual, but as a member of society. I must worship Him. Public, as well as private, worship is an exigency of my created nature. Should I worship in church? In the Old Law, God commanded the Jews to worship in the temple. Christ our Lord worshiped in the temple and in the synagogues. There are many who fancy that the Lord preached the greater part of His sermons out of doors. They have heard of the Sermon on the Mount and the Sermon from the Boat, but apparently never of the sermons in the temple and the synagogues. As a rule Christ preached in a church, as an exception he preached elsewhere. When in Jerusalem, St. Luke says:

"He preached daily in the temple" (19, 47). Our Lord Himself says: "I sat daily with you teaching in the temple" (Math. 26:55). This was in Jerusalem, but what about His preaching in other towns? St. Matthew says: "And Jesus went about all the cities and towns teaching in the synagogues" (9:35). This is a sweeping statement. It seems to imply a custom, or that Christ's ordinary place for dispensing the word of God was a church. Well St. Luke says: "We went into the synagogue according to his custom" (4:16), and again (4:44), "He was preaching in the synagogues of Galilee." Christ set the example of private devotion by retiring often to pray alone. He set the example of church going by attending church Himself, and above all by choosing the church as the ordinary place for worship and preaching the word of God.

JOB WAS SELECTED

ONLY CHANGE AS MADE BY COURT IN APPOINTMENTS.

J. H. CLARY AS ENGINEER

Dr. L. E. Dean, W. A. Townsend and M. A. Peery Also Selected—Other Business of the Court.

The county court this afternoon made the following appointments for the coming year from March 1:

W. L. Job as county superintendent of the poor farm to succeed R. G. Brummitt.

W. A. Townsend as janitor of the court house, to succeed himself.

John H. Clary as county highway engineer, to succeed himself.

Dr. L. E. Dean as county physician and health officer, to succeed himself.

M. A. Peery as title examiner, to succeed himself.

The only new appointment was that of W. L. Job. He is the son of William Job, who was superintendent of the county farm for eight years, and was born on the county farm twenty-two years ago. He has always lived in the neighborhood of the farm, and is a young man well qualified for the place.

The court ordered the county highway engineer, John H. Clary, to view, survey and mark out a new road in Hughes township on the line between Nodaway and Andrew counties, which is to extend a little over a mile. The petition for the establishment of the new road was presented to the court by W. H. Brown and several other land owners in that section. A petition will also be sent to Andrew county court for an order for the establishment of that part of the road that is located in Andrew county.

ARRESTED AT ST. JOSEPH.

Deputy Sheriff Dee Callahan returned Friday night from St. Joseph with Fred L. Smith, who was put in the county jail on a charge of obtaining food, lodging and accommodations at a hotel with intent to defraud at Mrs. E. C. Campbell's hotel at Conception Junction.

BURNED TO DEATH

MRS. BEARD ANTRIM'S CLOTHES CAUGHT ON FIRE.

WAS BUILDING A FIRE

Mrs. Beard Antrim, living east of Parnell, was fatally burned about 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, her death resulting at 11 o'clock Friday night.

Mrs. Antrim was alone at her home all afternoon, her two children, Perry and Lulu, being at school, and nothing was known of her horrible experience until they came from school, when they found her lying in a swoon on the floor, nearly all her clothing burned from her body. Help was summoned, and after a time Mrs. Antrim recovered consciousness and was able to tell how the accident happened.

She was replenishing the fire in the heating stove, when her apron, which she had thrown back over her shoulder out of the way, caught fire in some way. She ran to the kitchen to put out the fire, but the back of her dress had caught from her apron and was fanned into flames as she ran.

She fought the fire with all her strength, but was unable to extinguish it. She suffered fearfully in her efforts. The deep burns in her back were what caused her death. Every part of her body excepting her face and feet were seared and burned. She remained conscious until the last moment of her life, assuring her family all the time that she was going to live.

Eldon Irvin of this city, a brother of Mrs. Antrim, went to Sheridan on the 10:52 Wabash Saturday morning.

Mr. Antrim's farm was a short distance north of Sheridan. They moved from near Parnell about six months ago.

The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Methodist church in Parnell. Burial at Ravenwood.

Mrs. Antrim was about 44 years old. She was born in New Castle, Pa., and came to Nodaway county with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren B. Irvin, and settled at Ravenwood, where she was married to Beard Antrim. She is survived by her husband and six children.

WAS THE COLDEST MORNING.

Mercury Went Down to 11 Below Zero This Morning—Much Suffering Here.

It was 11 below zero this morning at 7 o'clock, according to the government thermometer, being the coldest morning of the winter. The coldest morning up to this morning was on December 26, when it went down to zero. The change was felt keenly by the people here on account of such a sudden change and the high wind making the biting cold more penetrating.

What to Read.

If you are down with the blues, read the twenty-seventh Psalm.

If there is a chilly sensation about the heart, read the third chapter of Revelation.

If you don't know where to look for the month's rent, read the thirty-seventh Psalm.

If the stovepipe has fallen down and the cook gone off in a pet, put up the pipe, wash your hands and read the third chapter of James.

If you find yourself losing confidence in men, read the thirteenth chapter of I. Corinthians.

If people pelt you with hard words, read the fifteenth chapter of John.

If you are getting discouraged about your work read Psalm 126 and Galatians 6.7-9.

If you are all out of sorts, read the twelfth chapter of Hebrews.—The Bible Reader.

THE WEATHER

REASONS FOR ATTENDING CHURCH

It is sweet on a summer's morning, when the air is aquiver with the love songs of the birds and fragrant with the odor of roses blown, to hear the music of the church going bells, an invitation to the world-wearied to enter God's temple and find peace, because the instinct of worship is in the heart of man and the church is the temple of the living God.

I go to church because I find peace there, that peace which De Quincy described as a resting from human labors, a Sabbath of repose, a respite granted from the secret burdens of the heat, as if the tumult and fever and strife were suspended; as if there brooded over me a dove-like and halcyon calm.

I go to church because I love the music that I hear there, the mighty roll of the great organ, mingled with the marvelous symphonies of that divine stringed instrument, the human voice, untwisting all the chains that tie the hidden soul of harmony.

I go to church because I delight to hear the teachings of the preacher, whose soul is dedicated to God, whose field is as wide as God's universe, whose theme is the destiny of man, and whose words are the oracles of Fate. Marvelous is the spell of the preacher to whom God has given genius and consecration and the power of illustration drawn from the old, sacred, immortal Book, and from the miracles of nature, no less revealed in the crimson-tipped flower turned up by the plowshare of Robert Burns upon the soil of Ayr than in the long reaches of the star-girt skies.

I go to church because "the way is dark and I am far from home," and because the church is the polar star to light my pathway in the rayless night.

I go to church because the church ministers not only to the spiritual but also to the material needs of life, and because it is there that the charities that sooth and heal and bless are scattered at the feet of man like flowers.

I go to church because in that atmosphere vice and crime wither and die.

I go to church because I hear the teachings of the philosophy of Jesus, the incomparable man; and if you say His teaching is philosophy and not religion, and that He was a man and not a god, then the philosophy of that man has redeemed the world from savagery and blessed mankind with Christian civilization, and, to my mind, it is a thing worth while to hear.

I go to church because I find there consolation and hope; because I see there the dawn and not the sunset; and it is better for man, if the hope is baseless and the vision but an elusive phantom, to cherish a dream so glorious and beautiful than to be weighted down and crushed with the quarried mountains of a world without hope and without God.—By Congressman Claude Weaver of Oklahoma.

viction that for the preservation of this right the race has put forth its greatest energies. But to sum up all other reasons in one brief statement, I go to church to worship God; for, in a right apprehension of what that means, I find the basic fact of human life. The fundamental idea in the teaching of the church is that the life of man must be brought into willing conformity to the principles of truth and right through a conscious presence of the Holy Spirit influencing and directing all its energies and activities. This is fundamental and the fact wherein the church differs radically from all human institutions however beneficent and worthy these may have been. Therefore, I conclude that the church is the only institution organized on the earth that is able to touch life at its source and to purify the fountain of all activity; and it is a matter of wonderment that the sentiment of the Psalmist, 'I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord,' has been the sentiment of all Christian hearts since his time."

Agent W. E. Goforth of the Burlington station—I go to church because it is my privilege, also my moral, social and religious duty to give my support to the institution that makes Maryville a better place to live in; the institution that makes a higher standard of good citizenship. I go to church because I like the association of Christian people. I like to lend my aid and encouragement to the minister fully as well as I enjoy the good I receive from attending church. Six days are given to man to fight the professional battles of life, and the seventh we are commanded to give to our Maker, and it should be observed in worship.

Recorder J. Arthur Wray—Why attend church? Because we are all subject to one or the other of two masters, but we have to choose which to serve—one a deceiving enemy, the other our personal friend, who so loves us that He died for us, but is now our great living model. He wants us to attend church and learn about His earthly life so that we may live a clean, wholesome life, pleasing to Him, agreeable to our neighbors and safe and gladsome to ourselves here and save for the life hereafter. In short, we should attend church because we need its help and because it needs us and our help and influence.

Again, why not attend church? "Choose ye this day whom ye will serve?"

Attorney W. H. Crawford—I attend church largely from the force of habit formed early in life, from the example set by my father and mother, who were both devout people, and always attended church unless prevented by some very good reason.

I go to church, also, because I love the music of the church. Because at church I hear the teachings of Him who spoke as no man has ever spoken. Because at church I hear those things which, if heeded, will give me the ability to make the most of this life, and because at church is held out the only hope I have of a life hereafter.

Judge Joseph H. Sayler—I go to church because as far back as I can remember my parents took me to church with them and set me the good example, and my father, who is still living, at the age of 90, continues to attend church. It is a great pleasure, the best I have, to meet and worship the Master with other good people. I think we were put here for a purpose and we ought to try, at least, to accomplish some good by our example as well as by precept. I think all professing Christians ought to be regular attendants at church.

S. G. Gillam, president of the Gillam-Jackson Loan and Trust Co.—Why do I go to church? Because I feel it is a duty I owe to my God, a feeling inspired in early childhood by the teachings and example of my devout Christian parents. Because I regard the church as of great value to the community and feel that I should contribute to its existence, not alone of my means, but as well of a consistent moral support by attending its services. Because I enjoy the services of the church and the association of its people.

Says America Has All Land It Wants.

Newcastle, England, Feb. 7.—Walter H. Page, the American ambassador, in his address before the Newcastle Chamber of Commerce, touched upon the Monroe doctrine and the situation in Mexico. Mr. Page said the United States desired no more territory, as it now had sufficient for a self-governing unit. The Monroe doctrine, the ambassador declared, stood for self government. The United States desires no European government in America, because it wished to dedicate the American continent to self government, as well as the peoples who live there.

WILLIAM JEWELL WON.

Defeated the Normal Basket Ball Team Friday Night by a Score of 37 to 21.

In one of the fastest games seen on the local court the Normalites were defeated by William Jewell 37-21. The game was exceedingly fast and rough from start to finish. Jewell excelled the Normals slightly in team work, but their excessive bulk was responsible for the high score and roughness. The locals showed as clever floor work as their opponents, but were not heavy enough to play the type of game exhibited by the Jewells.

The first half ended 16 to 8 in favor of the Jewells, but the locals came back with a rush in the second half, coming within two points of their opponent's score, but could not keep up the clip they set.

Martin and Jeffries were the stellar performers for Jewell, though the entire team showed class as basket ball tossers. Vandersloot was off on free throws, but did as clever floor work as usual, scoring five goals from difficult positions. Though Quinn is just recovering from a badly twisted knee he certainly was in the game, and helped the team work wonderfully, displaying good headwork and grit throughout the game. Watson showed more class than he has yet shown, and certainly will make a great player in another year. Scott and McReynolds deserve a great deal of credit for the plucky way they stuck to their big opponents.

Maryville was outclassed by Jewell, due to their inexperience, but they deserve a great deal of credit for the fighting spirit displayed in their games played this season. Hanson increased his popularity with Maryville fans by his very efficient work as official last night.

The team will spend three days in hard practice preparatory to their trip to Liberty and Cameron next Thursday and Friday.

The Normal certainly has a loyal backing exhibited by the enthusiastic audience of over 250 people, in spite of the extreme cold and high wind of last night. They all felt that the excellent game played was worth the effort extended to witness the game. Summary:

William Jewell—Martin, Jeffries, Hood, Godfriaux, Bell, Carbaugh.

Normal—Vandersloot, Watson, Quinn, Scott, McReynolds.

Field goals—Martin 4, Jeffries 3, Hood 6, Godfriaux, Bell, Carbaugh, Quinn, Vandersloot 5, Watson, Quinn.

Free throws—Jeffries 4, Carbaugh, Quinn, Vandersloot 6.

Final score—37-21.

Time of halves—20 minutes.

Referee—Hanson, Benton high school, St. Joseph.

Attendance—250.

DEBATE ON RACE QUESTION

Washington, Feb. 7.—After another debate on the race question, the senate will vote today on the final passage of the Lever agricultural extension bill.

Senator Gallinger started the argument with a statement in favor of the Jones amendment to provide that negro agricultural colleges in the south shall share in the administration of the proposed fund for farm demonstration. This brought forth extended remarks upon the negro by Senator Vardaman, who declared it would be a godsend if the negro was not permitted to vote in any state.

Describing present conditions in the "black belt," the Mississippi senator said the women of the southern states were living today in a state of siege with more dread than in the days when the wild man and wild beast roamed the frontier.

THE WAGE EARNERS BANQUET.

Thirty-five members and several guests of the Wage Earners class of the Buchanan Street Methodist church ate at the banquet tables prepared by women organizations of the church in honor of the first birthday of that class Friday night at the church parlors.

"This is no formal affair," said Rev. J. D. Randolph in the course of his remarks, "What the Class Means to the Church." "This class was organized one year ago tonight. I have spent a great deal of time, patience and energy planning a scheme of organization for this class and have come to consider it my hobby. One of its most important aims is to develop the fellowship side of the men."

J. H. Thorp spoke on the toast "Aim of the Wage Earners," and brought out the point that it was to help those that were down and to help others to a higher plane of morals.

Charles Wilson gave a short talk of the "Organization of the Class," stating that it had grown from four in number to sixty-five in the course of one year.

C. W. Siler, "Why I Joined the Wage Earners," stated that he saw the good aims and intentions of the class, and anything that could be of service in aiding him to be a better man he was willing to undertake.

Dr. R. E. Hamilton, toastmaster, gave a short talk on "The Value of the Ritual."

Rev. M. DeWitt of Barnard, who had been visiting Rev. Randolph for the day, spoke a few words of praise, and stated that it was his intention to organize a similar class.

Floyd Brown gave an address of welcome to the visitors.

I. B. Williams, a visitor, responded.

THE SPIRITS AND PROPERTY.

There is to Be Trouble Over the Will of Alonzo Thompson.

A number of Maryville people will be interested in a story that comes from Denver, relative to the disposition of the will of the late Alonzo B. Thompson, formerly of Maryville, where he made his money. The story as told by a press dispatch is as follows:

"Mrs. Alonzo Thompson, widow of the late Denver millionaire spiritualist, announced that she was preparing to start several suits against Helen S. Baker of Fullerton, Neb., who, according to Mrs. Thompson, is also known as Nellie S. Noyes. In one she will demand damages of the spiritualistic husband's affections, and in another she will attempt to recover some $150,000 worth of property which Thompson presented to Miss Baker shortly before his death.

"Equally startling are the announcements which come from the Baker camp in the form of a reply to Mrs. Thompson's charges. Miss Baker, who is now in Fullerton, declares she will start suit against the Thompson estate for one-third of the property. This, she alleges, was bequeathed to her by the millionaire spirit believer in a codicil to his will. Undue influence was brought to bear, she announces, to persude him to have this codicil destroyed.

"Miss Baker declared she will also produce testimony in court to show that Mrs. Thompson, herself, got into the good graces of the millionaire, by representing herself to be a spiritualistic medium. The suits and counter suits are expected to be filed at any time.

"By leading him to believe that he was obeying the commands of the inhabitants of the spritual world, Miss Baker influenced the aged millionaire to give her deeds to these properties, according to the allegations of Mrs. Thompson. Not for herself, but for her son, Alonzo, Jr., is she conducting the fight, she asserts. If the $150,000 worth of property is won it will revert to the late Mr. Thompson's son, or at least to the Thompson estate, say Mrs. Thompson's lawyers.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Two basket ball games have been matched with the first basket ball team of the high school. The first game will be played here Friday, February 13 with the Central high school of St. Joseph. The other will be played with the Bedford high school, Friday, February 20. One game has been played with Bedford this season, but our boys have not yet played the St. Joseph team this season, and we are looking forward to two good games.

Two games of the basket ball tournament were played after school Friday. The Holt team—Holt, Saunders, Fleming, B. Harris and Alspaugh—played the Harris team—I. Harris, Gillam, Olney, Farmer and G. Miller. In the first of the game the Holt team gained the lead and kept ahead throughout the entire game, the final score being 15 to 25. The other game was between the Sawyers and Wilson teams. The players of the two teams were: Wilson, captain; F. Gray, Farmer, Hagin and Johnson, vs. H. Sawyers, captain; Gillam, Lewis, Benight and Yehle. At the close of the first half both teams had eight points, but the final score was 16 to 19 in favor of Sawyers.

What They Say About Keene.

Virgil Keene of Maryville, the jolly stationary salesman of a large supply house in St. Louis, was in Grant City Thursday. We failed to recognize Mr. Keene at first, on account of his new alfalfa Van Dyke. This additional fixture makes Virgil one of the finest looking men we ever saw. CITY COUNCIL MEETING.

At the city council meeting held Friday night, a discussion took place that the salary of the members of the council should be so much a meeting, and that they would only receive their pay when they are present at the meeting. The city attorney will probably draw up an ordinance to that effect, to be taken up at the next meeting. At the present time the salary of the council members is $50, but they receive that salary whether they attend or not. The effect of the proposed ordinance is to secure the attendance of the members at the meetings.

An order was made to refund one-half of the tax to Clark Weaver on his property, the assessment having been erroneous.

THE ROBINSON SALE.

Considering the Stormy Weather, Sale Was Largely Attended and Good Prices Received.

The F. P. Robinson & Co.'s Poland-China hog sale held Friday afternoon at the Star barn was a very good sale and was largely attended, considering the stormy weather. Good prices were received, the sale amounting to $1,516.50, or an average of about $45. Thirty-five head of hogs were sold. Buyers were present from Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Pennsylvania. The highest price received was $60. R. P. Hosmer was the auctioneer.

Nary a Slot Machine.

At the recent session of the grand jury a report was requested on the slot machines running in the county and it looked for a few minutes like somebody was going to be caused a little trouble. The machines were in open violation of the law and the penalty was pretty stiff. Upon the suggestion of some of the members of the jury, however, it was decided not to prosecute the owners of the machines if they were taken out immediately. As a result there is not a machine left in the county and the fellows who have been having a little amusement seeing the colors turn will now be compelled to find some other use for their nickels. It is said that there is a little receptacle called a savings bank which will accommodate a nickel—or several of them—very nicely, and while this might be a little tame for awhile, it is suggested as a good substitute.

The sale of cigarettes has also fallen off surprisingly in the county since the meeting of the grand jury. The jury was given specific instructions in regard to the sale of the "coffin nails" to minors and all tobacco sellers were warned by the jury to be very careful about violating the law.—Burlington Junction Post.

Alleged Swindler Works Corporations

New York, Feb. 7.—Lorenzo B. Adams, arraigned before the United States commissioner as a mail swindler, had according to the charges of the postoffice inspectors, developed his art to such a degree that his victims were not individuals, but corporations. He was accused of swindling the promoters of newly formed stock companies out of $100,000 by selling them a worthless service whereby he promised to exploit and sell their securities.

Woman Burned to Death.

Ida Grove, Ia., Feb. 7.—Mrs. Paul Kettleson of Cook township, who lived some fifteen miles northwest of Ida Grove, was burned to death. She took a lantern and went into an adjoining room and while there must have been stricken with palsy, for she fell over on the lantern and was so terribly burned she died in a short time. Her husband, who is deaf, did not know of her fate until he missed her and went to look for her.

KING WELCOMES PEASANTS

Demonstration in Favor of Swedish Armaments.

Stockholm, Sweden, Feb. 7.—Striking success, both spectacular and material, attended the monster demonstration in favor of the increase of Swedish armaments. The 30,000 participants were told by King Gustave that the problem of Swedish defense must be settled without loss of time.

The army of patriotic petitioners, which had waited on the outskirts of the Swedish capital since Thursday, was greeted with enthusiasm by the entire population of Stockholm as it marched the streets to the palace, where King Gustave was waiting to receive it. The procession was a very picturesque one, composed of small owners and farmers from every part of the kingdom.

The peasants were warmly welcomed by the king, who stood on the portico of the palace. Their petition stated that they were ready to make all the necessary sacrifices to defend their country and to assure its independence, and demanded that the subject be taken in hand forthwith. The king replied that he was in hearty accord with the desire of the pilgrims and shared their opinion that the problem was one which must be solved without loss of time.

Further Evidences of Reviving Business Activity.

New York, Feb. 7.—Dun's Review of Trade says:

There are further evidences of reviving business activity, with the expansion in industrial operations constituting one of the best features of the situation. Somewhat less complaint is now heard regarding labor conditions, as the number of unemployed, while apparently still large, has been considerably reduced of late. This obviously enhances the purchasing power of the people and confidence in the future is gradually strengthening.

Developments in iron and steel last month were of such an encouraging nature that prices in certain finished lines have been advanced $1 a ton—a significant fact in view of the freedom with which concessions were formerly offered.

Failures for the week were 372.

MISSOURI RATE CASES APPEALED

Attorney for Thirteen Roads Goes to Get McPherson to Sign.

JUDGE HOLDS HE HAS NO POWER

Railways Will Seek to Have United States Supreme Court Compel Federal Jurist to Take Jurisdiction of All Claims.

Kansas City, Feb. 7.—The Missouri railroad rate cases, which have been in litigation for many years, were started on another journey to the supreme court of the United States. Eugene E. Ball, a partner of Frank Hagerman, attorney for the thirteen roads involved, departed for Red Oak, Ia., the home of Judge Smith McPherson of the federal court, to obtain the judge's signature to an appeal to the supreme court from Judge McPherson's decision, in which the judge held he had no power to retain jurisdiction of suits to recover alleged overcharges from the railroads.

The railroads seek an order from the higher court compelling Judge McPherson to take jurisdiction of the claims of shippers and passengers who paid the higher rates during the life of the injunction that Judge McPherson granted against the enforcement of the rate laws. The claims amount to approximately $24,000,000.

In their "assignment of errors," on which the appeal is based, the railroads allege the court erred in "decreeing that it refused jurisdiction to settle and determine all liability if any for alleged overcharges between shippers and passengers and complainant." It also is charged the court was in error "in holding it was without any discretion to reserve such jurisdiction and had no power, under the mandate, and the opinion of the supreme court so to do."

The appointment of a master to take jurisdiction over such claims as might be filed in the federal court is objected to, the railroads alleging they had never consented to such an arrangement.

Mr. Ball said he expected Judge McPherson to sign the order for appeal. John T. Barker, attorney general of Missouri, then will have thirty days to file an answer to the supreme court. The cases probably will not be reached for decision by the higher court, it is said, before its summer adjournment.

Before He Can Marry.

Here are ten qualifications a man must have before he can marry a member of the Argyle Bachelor Girls' club. He—

Must be as kind to his wife as her father and brothers were.

Must be prominently identified with the affairs of the community in which he lives, and with some church.

Must be a man with no bad habits. He cannot drink and cannot smoke to excess.

Must be willing to pay cheerfully for a new Easter hat with an air of "Glad to do it for you, dear."

Must kiss his wife good-bye every morning, and not leave the impression, "Well, that job's over with."

Must be a man who will not stay out late at night and come home with the "sick friend" story, or "had to work at my office, dear," story.

Must pay the light bills without grumbling.

Must share the responsibility of the home, even to walking the floor at night with a possible offspring.

Must be reasonable in all things and accept his wife's explanations without question.

Kansas City Motor Show.

Plans are now complete for the annual motor show given under the management of the Kansas City Motor Car Dealers' association, February 16 to 22. The decorative scheme is entirely different from any thus far seen in Convention hall. The general effect will be white and green, the white being the natural woodwork and the green being natural southern smilax and wisteria blossoms shipped direct from the southern forests. Immense white pillars will support the temporary balcony and they will be twelve feet apart. Between these pillars will be a beautiful white lattice wall. Pillars and wall will be covered with green vines. The arcade and lobby will be decorated in white bunting and American flags. Appropriate medallions, will be hung in each space, bearing the name of the exhibition, and over all there will be a sky blue ceiling with a general lighting scheme, the like of which has never been seen in the west.

There will be clusters and streamers filling every nook and crannie with pure white light suspended from the roof. All the streamers will be covered with smilax, and in all there will be more than 10,000 tungsten lamps in use.

A thirty-piece orchestra and an especially selected cabaret troupe will furnish continuous entertainment afternoons and evenings, so there will not be a dull moment for the visitors.

"Every indication points to a wonderful attendance," said Mr. Peake, "which only emphasizes the scope and importance of the motor car industry to this great southwest."

SAYS FREE TOLLS AID MONOPOLY

President Pays High Tribute to Secretary Bryan.

Baltimore, Feb. 7.—President Wilson, in a letter to William L. Marbury of this city, which was published in the Baltimore Sun today, says that the exemption of American coastwise ships from Panama canal tolls "constitutes a very mistaken policy from every point of view and benefits for the present, at any rate, only a monopoly." The president also pays a high tribute to Secretary of State Bryan, lauding his "character, sincerity, justice and integrity," declaring that he gives the department dignity.

Washington, Feb. 7.—It is apparent that President Wilson's expressed desire for repeal of the provision of the Panama canal act which exempts American coastwise ships from tolls will precipitate spirited debate in both houses of congress when the bill to carry out the suggestion is submitted.

Senators and representatives discussed the situation informally, but no move was made on the subject. Action probably will come first from the house interstate and foreign commerce committee, in the form of a bill to repeal the toll exemption provision. Representative Adamson, chairman of the committee, probably will introduce the bill next week. He is awaiting word from the president before acting.

That opposition to the repeal will develop in the house interstate commerce committee was indicated by Representative Knowland (Cal.), a member of the committee, who declared:

"We are paying a dear price for the friendship of Great Britain, even though it may help us out in Mexico."

SHOULD BE IN PENITENTIARY

Borah Says Prison Is Place for Men Involved in Haven Deal.

NORRIS READS PRESS CHARGES

Nebraskan Urges Passage of Resolution for New Probe—Fear of Giving Witnesses Immunity Halted Interstate Commerce Commission Inquiry.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Senator Norris, in urging the passage of his resolution for a new inquiry, said fear of granting immunity to witnesses caused the interstate commerce commission to make an incomplete investigation of the affairs of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad.

Senator Norris read newspaper charges emphasizing particularly that attorneys for Morgan & Co. received $15,000 for drawing the incorporation papers of a $10,000 subsidiary corporation of the New Haven.

"If half the information made public about the New Haven transactions is true, eight or ten persons ought to be in the penitentiary," interjected Senator Borah. "Are you not afraid further investigation may give immunity to guilty persons?"

Senator Norris replied that testimony probably could be obtained from the bookkeepers and he had no objection to giving them immunity.

Senator Cummins declared that in his opinion, congress had enough information and it would do best to busy itself with the enactment of proper laws to prohibit future transactions than to await further investigation by the interstate commerce commission. He insisted that the commission had no authority to investigate the charges that the directors defrauded the stockholders.

"I predict the state of affairs here finds a parallel in the capitalization of a dozen railroads of the country," said Senator Cummins. "We have known it was going on for years and refused to give the interstate commerce commission power to regulate such matters."

Mr. Borah expressed the opinion that the attorney general would act. "I think the spectacle of five or six men behind the bars would have a more powerful moral influence on the country than any legislation we can enact," he declared.

Senator Cummins replied there was no federal law under which the attorney general could "put any of these men behind bars."

HITS AT RUSH AT HEARING

Insurance Agent Says Prosecutor Asked "Leading Questions."

Kansas City, Feb. 7.—"Conditions in the grand jury room were outrageous," George Kumpf, an insurance agent, testified in the federal court during a hearing to quash indictments against eight officers and agents of the Florida Fruit Lands company, charged with misuse of the mails.

Attorneys for the indicted men allege government officials who conducted the grand jury deliberations exercised "judicial tyranny." Kumpf was a member of the grand jury until excused by the court because of business reasons. He was excused before the indictments were returned.

Kumpf charged that Sylvester Rush of Omaha, who conducted the grand jury investigation for the government, asked "leading questions of witnesses and sought in other ways to influence the jurors against the land company officials."

WILL URGE A COMMISSION

Inquiry Into Conditions Among Women Toilers Ends.

Joplin, Mo., Feb. 7.—The Missouri senate's commission appointed to investigate wages and working conditions of women ended its task of hearing testimony in Joplin.

Lieutenant Governor Painter, chairman of the commission, announced the body would recommend the appointment of a permanent commission in Missouri to investigate wage conditions, to settle labor disputes and with power to fix the wage scale in cases where employee and employer cannot agree.

Mr. Painter did not say whether a minimum wage law would be recommended. Later in the year members of the commission will go to other states to study working conditions of women.

POULTRY DEALERS TO JAIL

Thirteen Members of Chicken Trust Must Serve Sentence.

New York, Feb. 7.—Thirteen members of the so called "chicken trust," otherwise the New York Live Poultry Dealers' association, convicted of restraining trade in New York city, must go to jail.

Their appeal was denied in a decision handed down by the appellate division and their sentences of three months in prison and fines of $500 each were sustained.

The higher court found that defendants were in a pool which controlled 90 per cent of the poultry shipped to New York and destroyed competition. The case against them was prosecuted under the state anti monopoly law.

Printed on the front of every official time table which goes to Wabash employes are two large circles, "SAFETY ALWAYS." Printed on the back of every official time table are these words: "SAFETY should be the first consideration of every employe." It is a constant admonition to every Wabash trainman, for the protection of every Wabash traveler. Beginning with the human factor, the Wabash surrounds its travelers with every mechanical safeguard known to modern railroadism: Steel equipment; automatic electric block signals; miles of double track; heavy rails and substantial roadbed; telephone dispatching, etc.
